II. Crowd Control.

- A. At this time crowd control is regulated by the occupant load factor as set forth by the Fort Monmouth Fire Department. Each facility has a posted occupant load factor determined by an established policy of area per person depending on the use of the area. See Attachment B for established policy.
- B. To maintain the occupant load factor a head count is taken to ensure this policy is adhered to.
- C. If the occupant load factor is exceeded, patrons will be asked to leave the facility and come back at a later time or to wait outside. If this request is not obeyed it will qualify as disruptive behavior and the SOP for Disruptive Behavior is to be followed.
